Oil In Your Inlets

We at Dandy know that an oil spill is an environmental nightmare. Did you know that Dandy has a product to help protect your inlets for this type of situation?

The Dandy Skimmer, measuring 22" x 14" x 2", is uniquely designed screen pillow that is filled with a polymer absorbent that has not one but two attached floatation devices. The oil absorbent material inside the skimmer easily captures the oil - permanently and continuously. We all know how difficult oil can be, but the Dandy Skimmer can handle the worst of it.

A unique polymer absorbent bonds the oil to the polymer matrix and will not release hydrocarbons

- Floats on the surface continuously absorbing oils
- Removes oil permanently - one unit can hold up to 2 gallons of oil
- Design allows long-term exposure to oil-contaminated water for maximum absorption
- Will not create ponding or clogging due to sediment

Call Dandy today to order your Dandy Skimmer. Click here to see it in action. All of our Dandy Products can be ordered with optional oil absorbents.

Insider Tip: Stockpile Management

Because stockpiles (the spoil from a foundation dig) are of a temporary, organic nature, they must be managed properly to meet NPDES requirements. Proper stockpile management involves three basic requirements:

1. Protect stockpiles from rainfall with temporary cover
2. Ensure that every stockpile is located away from drainage systems
3. Ensure that stockpile placement includes perimeter protection

Are Your Pockets as Deep as Hovnanian's?

If you'd rather not end up on the EPA's violators list, Dandy is here to help. Our website is packed with products, videos and articles to help you stay compliant with regulations and free of fines.

If you have a site with curb inlets, for instance, check out our article "Save Thousands of Dollars in Fines: Regulations and Solutions for Curb Inlet Protection at Construction Sites." Other articles and videos can be found in the Dandy University section of our site.

Hovnanian Enterprises, Inc. Agrees to $1 Million Penalty for Alleged CWA Violations

One of the nation's top ten homebuilding operations (based on revenues and new homes sold) has settled alleged Clean Water Act (CWA) violations to the tune of $1 million. Hovnanian Enterprises is accused of failing to minimize or prevent discharge including silt and debris in storm water runoff, as well as failing to obtain necessary permits on time or at all.

In addition to paying the hefty penalty, Hovnanian must now develop improved SWPPPs for all of its construction sites, implement a storm water training program for its employees and an orientation program for contractors, properly train and designate compliance managers for each job site, conduct routine site inspections and document findings and responsive actions, and submit annual compliance summary reports to the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

The settlement covers approximately 590 sites in 18 states and the District of Columbia. For more information on it, click here.
